Make Tee Times 24/7 by going to

From the Pro

By PGA Head Professional, Crystal Morse

As the weather has leveled out, it has been great to see familiar faces at the golf course on a regular basis. If not already, we hope you are proud to call The Legends your home course!

May was Military Appreciation Month through the Indiana Golf Association and we are happy to report, through your generous donations, The Legends was able to donate 10 sets of donated golf clubs to the USO of Indiana. These clubs will be put to use by active and retired Military Members to enjoy the game of golf. We will continue the club donation drive through the summer, so feel free to drop off your gently used clubs at the Golf Shop!

Tee Times

We encourage everyone to make a tee time by using our online tee time system. You can access this by going to our website: www.thelegendsgolfclub.com and clicking on 'Book a Tee Time'. You can make online Tee Times 3 days in advance. To make tee times further out than 3 days, you may call the golf shop. Be sure to leave a detailed message if we are unable to answer the phone and we will book your tee time, if possible, and call back with a confirmation.

Lifetime and Full Annual Members

Lifetime and Annual members who want to play spur of the moment and cannot make a tee time- come on out and we will work you in. Another benefit of a full golf membership!

Anniversary Members

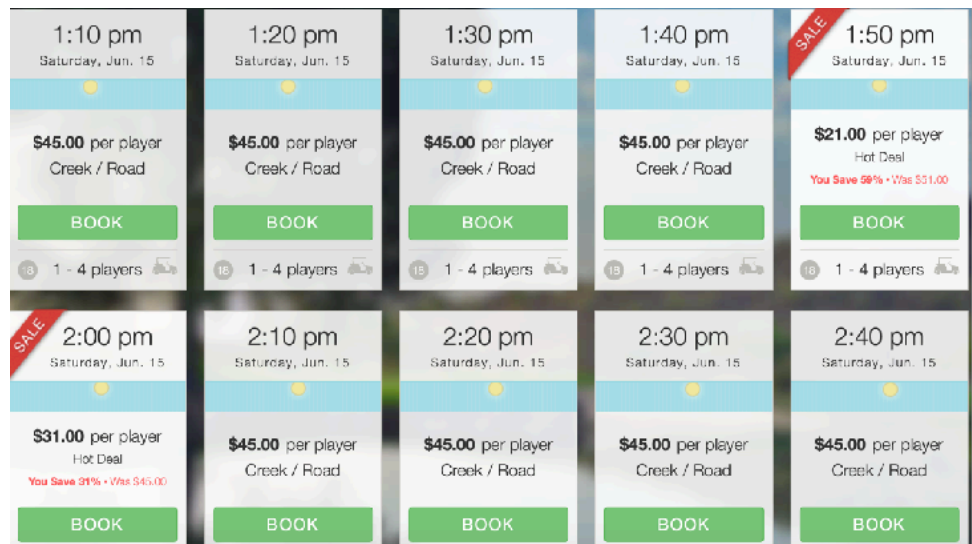

Anniversary members be prepared to show a picture ID at check-in. We just need to know your smiling face matches the information in your profile!

Online Tee Times - GolfNow Hot Deals/Sale Times

These typically show up around 1:40 and 1:50 on our website. We give these to GolfNow in exchange for our terminal hardware and POS system.

DO NOT BOOK THESE TEE TIMES UNLESS YOU ARE PREPARED TO PAY FOR THE TIME SLOT.

The Legends does not control or own these times and therefore cannot issue refunds because GolfNow has been paid by the customer- not us.

Golf Tip by PGA Director of Instruction, Jim Morse

How to Structure Your Practice Sessions

Every golfer has different needs for their game but how many people really spend the time that they should on each aspect of the game? Spending a half hour on the driving range working on full swing and then 2 minutes on the putting green is certainly not what I would call an efficient practice. A good practice session doesn't necessarily have to be very long, but for maximum benefit, you should try to even out how much you practice certain aspects of your game to better replicate how much you actually use those aspects in a typical round of golf.

Below is an example of a golfer that just scored 100 on a Regulation Golf Course (Par 72). I have broken down how this golfer used the clubs in their bag during this fictitious round. Please realize that these numbers are not going to be exact for a score of 100 because as many of you know, there are many ways that a golfer can end up with a certain score.

Drivers Hit:	14	(14%)
Fairway Woods Hit:	10	(10%)
Hybrids / Long Irons Hit:	12	(12%)
Mid / Short Irons Hit:	10	(10%)
Chip / Pitch Shots Hit:	18	(18%)
Putts Hit:	36	(36%)
Total Score	100	(100%)

The first thing that comes to mind as I look at the above numbers is that the categories in Blue, which are strokes made with the golfers' full swing made up 46% of their total score while the categories in Red, which are strokes involving the golfers' short game made up 54% of their total score. This shows that for a large portion of amateur golfers it is just as important to practice the short game as it is the full swing. Breaking it down a little further, it is obvious, at least to me, that putting should not go ignored while practicing.

These numbers certainly can be broken down even further, but the main point here is to realize that each aspect of the game requires a certain amount of attention when trying to improve your overall golf game. Also, please remember that the above is just an example and these numbers will fluctuate a great deal for a low handicap golfer versus a high handicap golfer. Each one of you will need to assess what your own percentages are for you to determine if you need to change the structure of how you practice.

I hope that this gives you a different perspective of how you may be able to be more efficient with your practice sessions and I look forward to seeing all of you out at The Legends practice facilities!

Player Responsibilities

Thank you for doing your part to take care of the golf course! As a reminder, we have the following expectations of any player that plays The Legends Golf Club:

- Fix your Ball Marks on the greens (and any others that you see!).
- Fill/Repair your divots in the fairway.
- Rake Bunkers after you have hit out of them.
- Follow Golf Car Signage and obey any Golf Car Restrictions for the day.

Along with the above expectations, we also closely monitor pace of play. We feel it is important to maintain a 4 Hour and 10 Minute Pace of Play for 18 Holes.

Our Starters, Rangers and Staff work hard to politely enforce these guidelines and we appreciate your courtesy and respect in return.

We look forward to seeing you at The Legends Golf Club soon!
